

Writing Challenge

Pretend you are one of Henry VIII's wives. Write a diary entry about your day and describe how Henry has treated you.

Maths Challenge

Create a quiz of 20 questions to practise your times tables. Choose a selection up to 12 X 12. Time how long it takes you to answer them all. Can you beat your time?

History Challenge

A coat of arms was used to represent a family and each is unique. Design a coat of arms that represents you. Use the help sheet for suggestions and ideas.

Year 5 Home School Challenge

Were the Tudors terrible or terrific?

Science Challenge

Make an aeroplane and write a description about how (when it's flying through the air) the air resistance works as a force against it.

Complete all of the tasks in the speech bubbles.

Choose 2 or more of the blue tasks to try at home.

Due in by 21.10.24

Make it!

Create a 3D Tudor ship. You can use whatever material you would like and if you're feeling extra ambitious, create a fleet!

Dance it!

Watch a clip of Tudor dancing. Create your own Tudor dance replicating the dance moves you have seen. There may be an opportunity to perform it to your class.

Draw it!

Look at the emblems associated with the War of the Roses. Choose one (or two if you are feeling extra artistic) to draw or paint.

Cook it!

Find out what the Tudors would have eaten. Recreate a recipe and get your family to try it. Take a photo of your dish and email it to us. year5priory@thrivetrust.uk

Coat of Arms Help Sheet

The antelope symbolises peace and wisdom. Sometimes, it was used as a symbol of speed.

Choose Your Colours Wisely

The colours used in a coat of arms were very important. They were symbolic of what the family wanted others to associate with them.

Black was the colour of knowledge.

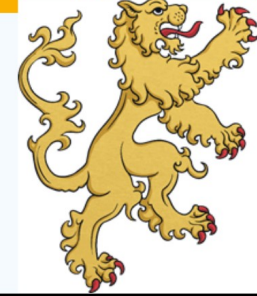

Blue was used as a sign of truth and sincerity.

Red was the colour of a warrior and wealth. It also told others that the bearer of the red shield was of noble birth.

Gold represented understanding, respect and majesty.

Green was symbolic of hope and joy.

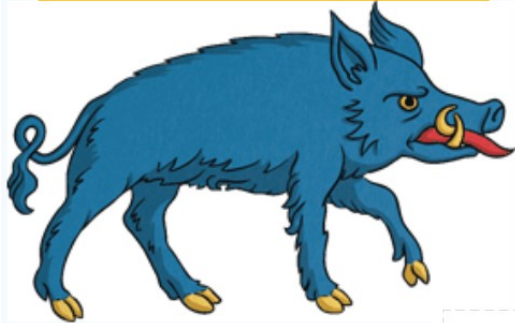

The lion is perhaps the most common animal used on coats of arms. It was a sign associated with royalty and represented courage and a valiant warrior.

The bear represented strength and cunning, but also a fierce protector of the family group. A symbol of bravery and healing.

The boar represented courage and fierce fighting! Defender to the end!

In legends, the dragon was a guardian of treasure: the bravest creature of them all.

Patterns Have Meanings

The patterns used in the designs of the coat of arms also have meanings.

The red stripe in a zigzag across the middle represents protection.

The yellow and red design symbolises rule and authority.

The red cross on a white background is an emblem of faith and protection.
